Country Hills Golf Club.

Meet Albert Pistorius, South African Sportsman of the Year 1999, now a pro at Country Hills Golf Club. Albert was born in South Africa and came to Canada in 2014. He has been playing golf for 23 years and has also been playing as a touring professional on multiple tours. During this time, Albert has gotten to meet some of the sport's best coaches and has been inspired Albert to share what he's learned with other passionate golfers.

Albert recently started working at Country Hills golf club after playing professionally or three years. He wanted to start coaching and started at a private club where coaching wasn't fully integrated.

"They hadn't really used booking systems; they mostly communicated through emails with customers," Albert recalls. "Just to book a lesson they would have to send six or seven emails by going back and forth."

When he started researching some options on booking platforms, he came very quickly to ProAgenda. "When I saw the ProAgenda booking system, I really liked the interface; everything was really user friendly." Albert is the first among his academy to try ProAgenda, but he believes his colleagues will follow.

Albert chose to explore ProAgenda by himself at first. "I kind of just started with a free trial just to see what it was like, and really enjoyed the interface very quickly."

After experimenting on his own he booked a demo to answer some specific questions related to proper setup.

“Your response is very quick, and I appreciate that, even from another country, so that is very impressive.”

“I kind of set up all the stuff on my own and try to figure it out. I’m not tech savvy either, so even for a guy like me it was very easy.”

“Most of all, I kind of set up all the stuff on my own and try to figure it out. I’m not tech savvy either, so even for a guy like me it was very easy,” he continues. “I had one or two points where I didn’t quite know what to do, but those questions were answered during the demo with Jordy.”

“So, it took one or two days, just playing around with it, but soon I knew that I wanted to schedule all my appointments in ProAgenda.” He didn’t experience many problems and when he did, the ProAgenda team was on them straight away.

When using ProAgenda, Albert wanted to experiment with different appointment types to see which ones work and which ones don’t. He found that ProAgenda helped him to do so and helped him get a feel for what’s best for his clients and the system. His clients are still in the process of catching up with the newest system, and Albert is there to help them.

He explains: “Slowly but surely the clients are starting to book via ProAgenda, but I’ve already received a great response from my clients about the system and this new way of booking.” The regular customers are getting the hang of it, which he encourages by sending his booking link whenever someone wants to book an appointment.

Albert explains that with the system fully set up, he has everything he needs to organize his lessons and coaching. “It’s really easy; it’s a big compliment to ProAgenda, and I really enjoy the system.” When previously using another system, he felt like he always needed something on the side to complement it and get the same features. Since switching to ProAgenda, Albert is happy to be able to use one platform exclusively.
